

SO MUCH IN COMMON GAME

By realizing that you share commonalities with people, you will become more familiar with them

Being familiar allows you to feel comfortable:

- Asking for help
- Talking and forming bonds
- Voicing your opinion to others

What you need:

- Sheet of paper
- Divide into 3 columns and for the name of each partner and then numbered 1-10 below each name

2 ways to play:

Either have to partner with someone 3 times and have 2 min to find up to 10 commonalities with each of their 3 partners OR have 10 min to find 3 commonalities with as many people in the group as they can (good for a larger group)

Discussion Questions for after game:

- How many of you found 10 things in common?
- What are some of the unusual items you discovered?
- How did you uncover these commonalities?
- Did you find you had more in common than you may have thought?
